this book offers cultural governance as a theoretical framework for the exploration of 20th century iraqi political history from the foundation of the imperial tribal school in constantinople in 1892 until 1992 the end of the iraq kuwait crisis case studies investigate the diversity of cultural governance as an analytical tool for historical heritage management from the protection of antiquities and guardianship of holy shrines to the use of heritage for corporate legitimacy the dissemination of conservation expertise throughout the arab world and management of heritage in times of conflict this material explores negotiations of power and sovereignty between local caretakers officials of the mandate administration members of the iraqi and arab intelligentsia unesco consultants and iraqi state officials among others underlining the ideological pluralism of governance efforts throughout the period this research offers a historical analysis of cultural projects and programs in iraq to consider the sociopolitical conditions that shaped their governance the material included this book is based on previously unpublished archives from the ottoman prime ministry archives middle east and north african newspapers collection and unesco archives among other repositories the work addresses a gap in scholarship which has neglected the role of cultural governance in heritage management and development in iraq the primary audience is academic scholars historians and educational institutions although the book will also be of interest to individuals in iraq in the iraqi diaspora abroad and those with a general interest in modern middle east studies the modern history of iraq places in historical perspective the crises and upheavals that continue to afflict the country the book focuses on several important themes the search for national identity in a multiethnic multireligious state the struggle to achieve economic development and modernity in a traditional society and the political dynamics that have led to the current situation phebe marr draws on published sources in arabic and english personal interviews and frequent visits to the country to produce a remarkably lucid account of the emergence of contemporary iraq this edition features three new chapters that bring readers up to date on events since the u s invasion and give a clear picture of the political social economic and ideological consequences of the recent upheaval marr provides an insightful overview of the current political scene iraq s new political elites emerging figures parties constituencies and support and foreign influences in the final chapter marr offers a uniquely penetrating analysis of iraq s current social and economic affairs including the decline of the middle class refugee displacement the economics of oil the status of women and ethnic groups and the rise of sectarianism this book introduces the politics of the modern middle east which includes the countries of the persian gulf the eastern mediterranean countries and north africa it covers the major geographical regions that make up the middle east and summarizes the post world war i history of the middle east the modern history of iraq is a remarkably readable account of contemporary iraq placing in historical perspective the crises and upheavals that continue to afflict the country this text weaves together several important themes including the search for a national identity the struggle to achieve social and economic development the changes in political dynamics and the impact of foreign interventions to provide readers with a holistic understanding of modern iraq revised and updated throughout the fourth edition features more discussion of cultural identity and media and society in addition this edition includes two new chapters on the events and shifts in the country of the early twenty first century the us intervention and withdrawal the stabilization and subsequent unraveling of the maliki government the effects of the arab uprisings and the rise of isis and their political economic and social consequences written by noted iraq scholar phebe marr with new co author ibrahim al marashi this text is essential reading for readers who seek to understand modern iraq in the context of historical perspective since 2011 civil wars and state failure have beset the arab world underlying the misalignment between national borders and identity in the region this book offers a unique and detailed account of the separatist movements that aim to remake those borders the southern movement in yemen the federalists in eastern libya the kurdish nationalists in syria and iraq and the islamic state in iraq and syria isis instead of focusing on incumbent states the book shows how separatists claim the mantle of self determination and seek to replace a broken regional order with more legitimate and stabile polities following the tradition and style of the acclaimed index islamicus the editors have created this new bibliography of art and architecture in the islamic world the editors have surveyed and annotated a wide range of books and articles from collected volumes and journals published in all european languages except turkish between 1906 and 2011 this comprehensive bibliography is an indispensable tool for everyone involved in the study of material culture in muslim societies this study provides a comprehensive analysis of state society development in the most volatile region of the world in the middle east various anti systemic movement and radical islam often clashed and resisted the political cultural economic and military domination of the region by the world s major imperial powers emadi investigates state revolution and development in the middle eastern states of afghanistan iran iraq and syria in the immediate post world war ii period maintaining that the state is an instrument of class domination exhibiting a certain degree of autonomy in the creation and design of domestic development programs he details the role of class in an attempt to provide a better understanding of the diverse factors at work politics of the dispossessed provides an alternative analysis of development in regional politics and its context in world politics aspects that are generally neglected by most mainstream studies it examines state formation internal development strategies and how class conflict and ideology led to class alliance on an international basis as well as the external interference in the internal affairs of these societies it also explores the process of political and ethnic integration of the middle east into the global economic system and the resulting counter strategies of the nationalist and islamic resistance to the increasing superpower domination of the international system this book links sectarianism in iraq to the failure of the modern nation state to resolve tensions between sectarian identities and concepts of unified statehood and uniform citizenry after a theoretical excursus that recasts the notion of primordial identity as a socially constructed reality the author sets out to explain the persistence of sectarian affiliations in iraq since its creation following the dismemberment of the ottoman empire despite the adoption of homogenizing state policies the uneven sectarian composition of the ruling elites nurtured feelings of political exclusion among marginalized sectarian groups the shicites before 2003 and the sunnis in the post 2003 period the book then examines how communal discourses in the educational curriculum provoked masked forms of resistance that sharpened sectarian consciousness tracing how the anti persian streak in the nation state s pan arab ideology which camouflaged anti shicism undermined iraq s national integration project sectarianism in iraq delves into the country s slide from a totalizing pan arab ideology in the pre 2003 period toward the atomistic impulse of the federalist debate in the post 2003 period employing extensive fieldwork this book sheds light on the dynamics of political life in post saddam iraq and is essential reading for iraqi and middle east specialists as well as those interested in understanding the current heightening of sectarian sunni shicite tensions in the middle east well considered answers to the many questions raised by the situation in iraq past and present are rare this first comprehensive bibliography on iraq is based on the index islamicus the leading bibliography on the muslim world and will help its readers to find their way through the extensive secondary literature
